An Encore Song

By

Henry Sachs

→ High in G Low in F

60

Price, ~~50~~ cents, net

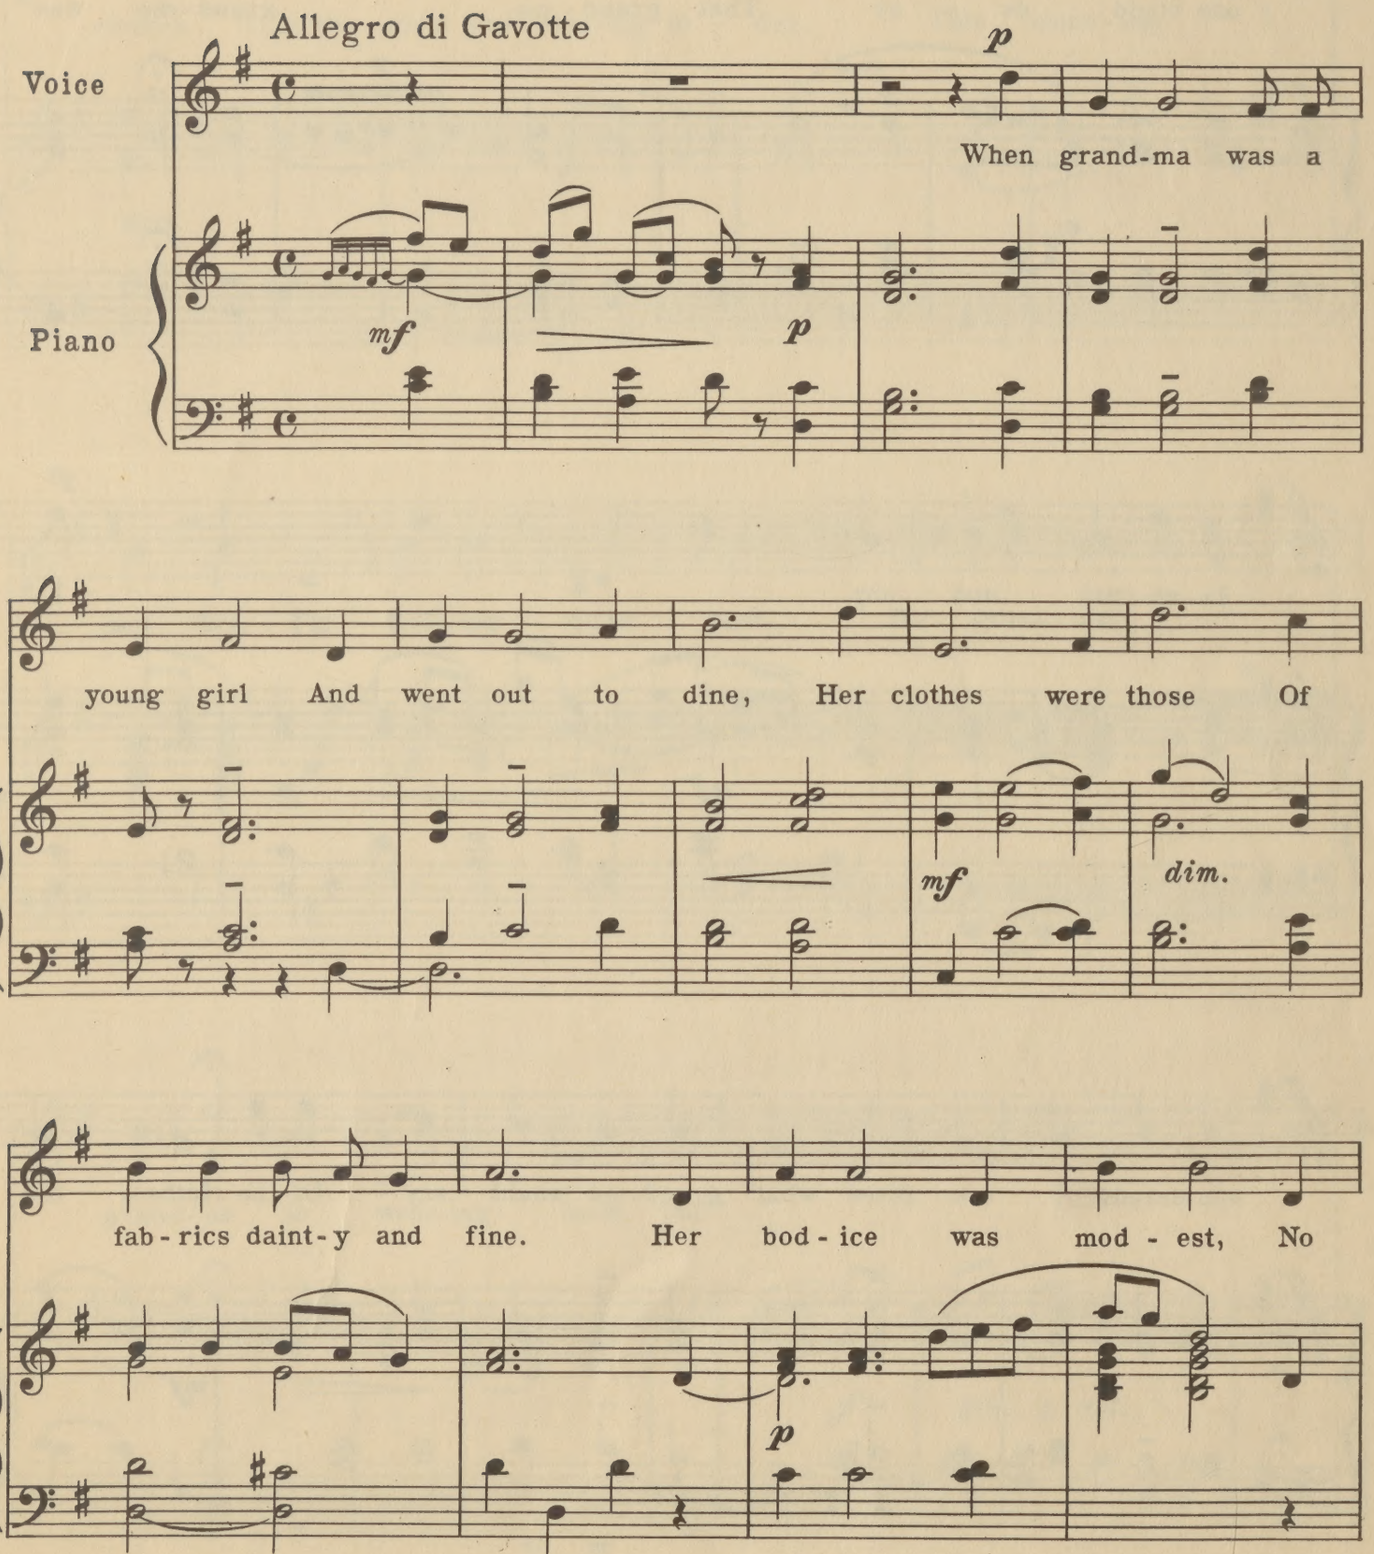
Except Canada and Foreign

HEINTZMAN & CO., LTD.
10139 JASPER AVE.
EDMONTON, ALBERTA

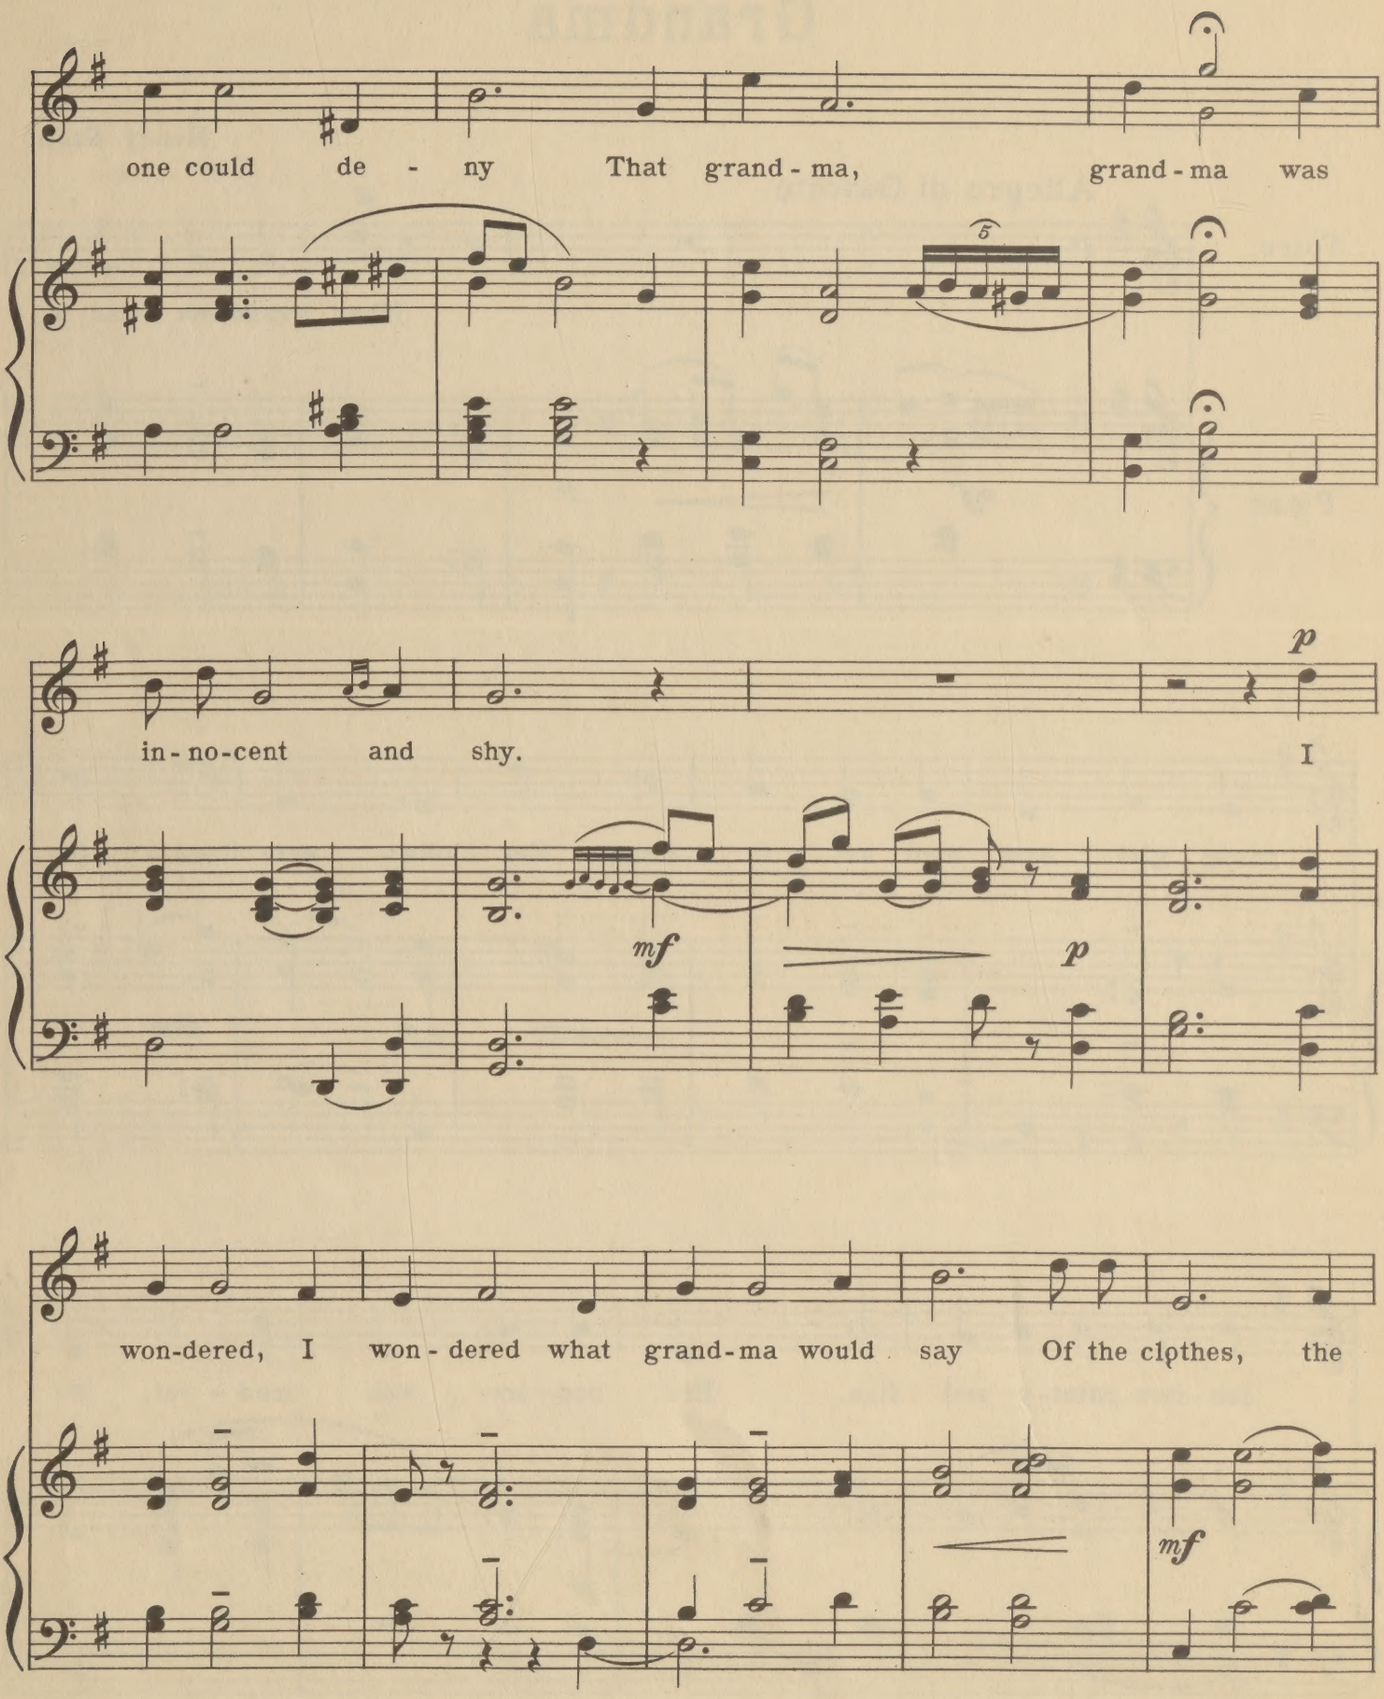
T

Grandma

Henry Sachs



Copyright, 1923, by Harold Flammer, Inc.
International Copyright Secured



one could de - ny That grand - ma, grand - ma was in - no - cent and shy. I won - dered, I won - dered what grand - ma would say Of the clothes, the mf p mf

clothes, That the girls are wear-ing to - day. This morn - ing I dim.
p
met her, I'm feel - ing quite blue, For grand - ma, grand-ma is wear-ing them too!
f dim. e rit.

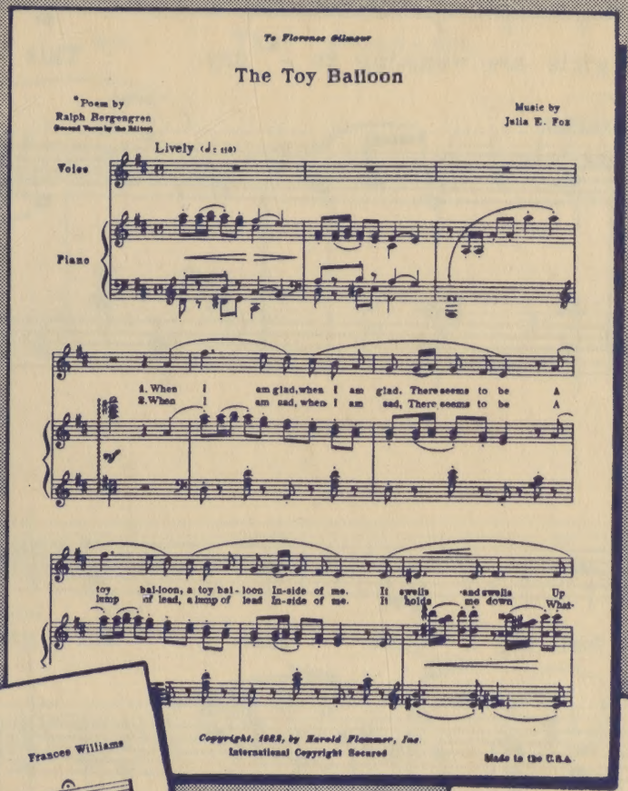
Three Outstanding Encore Songs



To Florence Gilmour
The Toy Balloon *Poem by Ralph Bergengren
Second Verse by the Editor Music by Julia E. Fox
Lively
Voice
Piano
1. When I am glad, when I am glad. There seems to be A
2. When I am sad, when I am sad, There seems to be A toy bal-loon, a toy bal-loon In-side of me. It swells and swells Up lump of lead, a lump of lead In-side of me. It holds me down What-Copyright, 1923, by Harold Flammer, Inc.
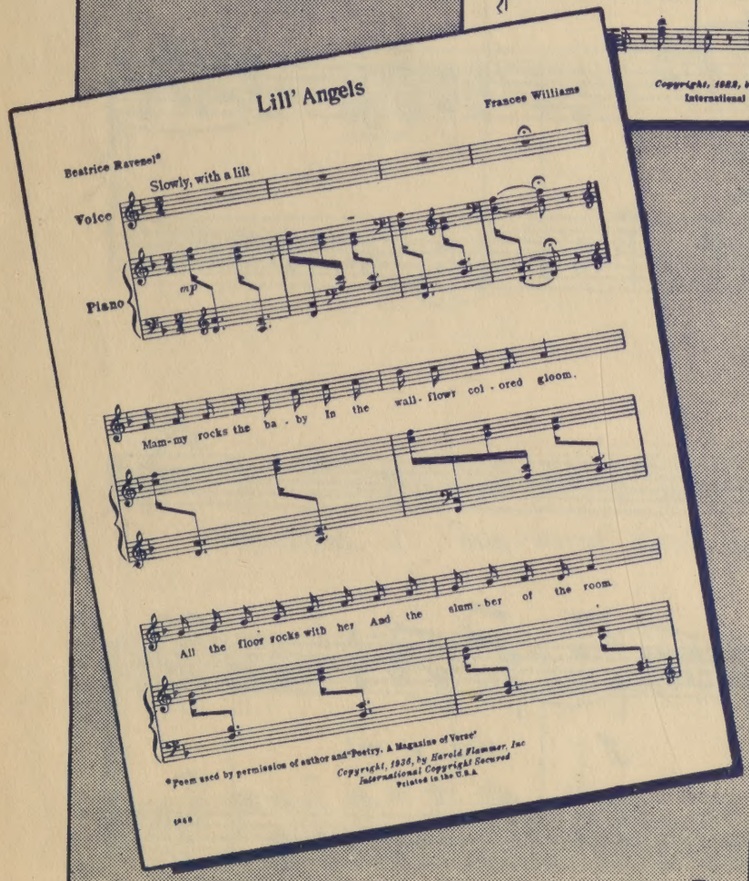
International Copyright Secured
Made in the U.S.A.



Lill' Angels
Frances Williams
Beatrice Ravenel*
Slowly, with a lilt
Voice
Piano
Mam-my rocks the ba-by In the wall-flow'r col-ored gloom.
All the floor rocks with her And the slum-ber of the room.
*Poem used by permission of author and "Poetry, A Magazine of Verse" Copyright, 1926, by Harold Flammer, Inc.
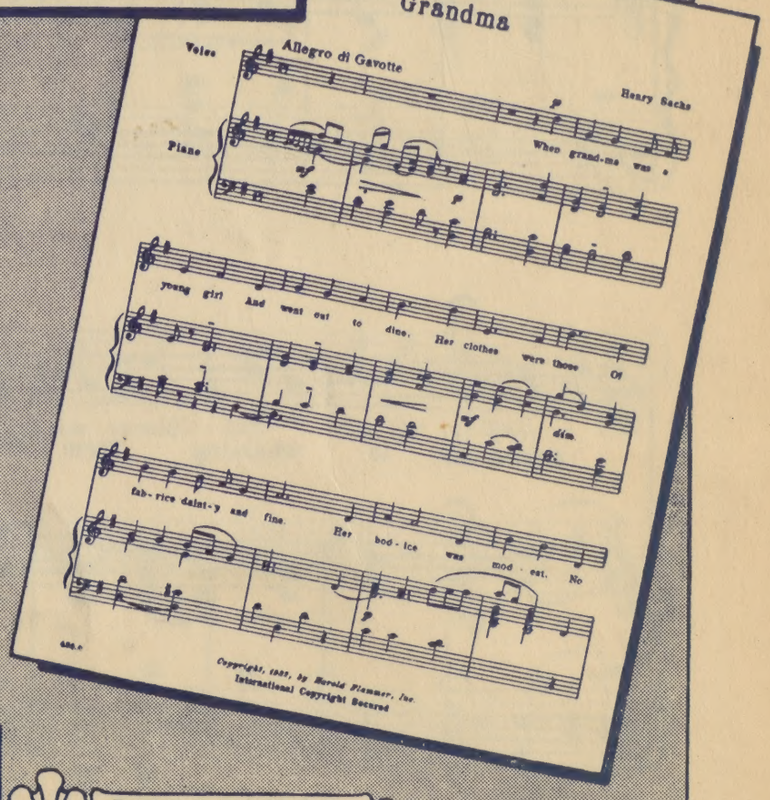
International Copyright Secured
Printed in the U.S.A.



Grandma
Allegro di Gavotte
Henry Sacks
Voice
Piano
When grand-ma was a young girl And went out to dine, Her clothes were those Of fab-rics dain-ty and fine. Her bod-ice was mod-est, No Copyright, 1921, by Harold Flammer, Inc.
International Copyright Secured

HAROLD FLAMMER INCORPORATED PUBLISHER NEW YORK